Ammons Pleads Innocent To Charges In Paducah Wednesday

Dr. James Ray Ammons pleaded innocent to charges of conspiracy to bring a controlled substance into the United States at his arraignment in Paducah Wednesday.

Bond of $25,000 was continued, and the local physician was ordered to appear in U. S. District Court on March 14 when a trial date will be set.

Ammons, 44, was arrested March 4, after a grand jury indictment was returned against him.

The charges stemmed from the crash of a locally-based twin-engine aircraft last June 10, near Hereford, Tex. Officials said the plane was carrying about $225,000 worth of Mexican marijuana.

At the time, Ammons told police that he owned the airplane jointly with another Murray physician and a local businessman.

Ammons has previously been charged with trafficking in a controlled substance. Authorities said evidence in that case was seized at his home here last October.

Ammons was charged in the latest two-count indictment with conspiracy to possess marijuana with intent to distribute it after the drug had been unlawfully imported from Mexico.

The second count of the indictment charges that he and his indicted co-conspirators, Alberto M. Vera and Hubert Max Putnam, did unlawfully import about 800 pounds of marijuana into the U. S.

Two other area men, John Charles Raidt and Barry Raidt, were listed in the indictment as unindicted co-conspirators.

According to the indictment, Dr. Ammons allegedly approached the Raidts about May 1, 1976, offering the use of his airplane and pilot, Putnam, for a trip to Mexico to secure marijuana.

About June 1, the indictment stated,

Information Needed For Federal Aid Decision

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Federal officials have told state Agriculture Commissioner Thomas Harris that they need more information to decide whether Kentucky farmers qualify for disaster assistance after the severe winter.

There is still a chance of aid, Harris said in a telephone call to his Frankfort office Wednesday from Washington, but added that federal officials still have reports on farm damages from only 30 of Kentucky's 120 counties.

Harris said he met this week with officials of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration (FDAA), the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) and the Agriculture Department's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), according to Mark McDaniel, a state Agriculture Department spokesman who talked to Harris.

"If I have accomplished anything, it's simply getting doors that may have been closed open. I don't want to get Kentucky farmers' hopes up, but the possibility of aid still exists," McDaniel said Harris told him.

Farm damages estimated by Harris at more than $108 million were part of the $428 million in winter damages reported when Gov. Julian Carroll asked for a federal disaster declaration last month.

The FDAA said last week that Kentucky's situation was not severe enough to warrant a disaster declaration.

But Harris said the officials he talked to agreed to consider farm damages separately.

"They said when the reports are received they will review them separately and make a decision," McDaniel said.

He said it appears farmers could still receive two types of aid—grants for up to half the additional feed costs resulting from the cold weather, and low-interest loans to replace lost livestock and repair damage to water systems, roads and other farm property.

Harris asked farmers last month when he made his estimate of farm damages to report their damages individually to ASCS emergency boards in each county.

His estimate has been forwarded to both agriculture and disaster officials in Washington, but only 30 reports from emergency boards have arrived, he was told.

And FDAA and USDA officials "want it based on the emergency committee figures from each county. Any county emergency committee that has not forwarded its information needs to do so as soon as possible."

A statewide seminar-workshop, "Environmental Noise Pollution — A Look at Sound in Society," is scheduled for two Western Kentucky locations during April. One of the seminars will be held in Murray.

The seminar will consider various aspects of the "unseen pollutant," noise at the nuisance level, said Tommy Jackson, chief of the office of noise control, Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

Wholesale Prices Show Gain During February

WASHINGTON (AP) — The higher cost of coffee, poultry, fruits and vegetables helped push wholesale prices up nine-tenths of a per cent in February, the government said today. It was the biggest increase in 16 months.

Labor Department analysts said they were unable to determine how much of the increase could be attributed to the severe winter. But the jump in the inflation rate at the wholesale level comes against a backdrop of drought in Western states and a citrus and vegetable freeze in Florida.

Fuel prices also were up sharply during the month. Department analysts said the increase appeared larger than the true underlying rate of price rise because natural gas producers were refunding money to customers in the months prior to December, and that kept prices for those months lower than normal.

The latest over-all increase compared to a five-tenths of a per cent rise in January and marked the biggest gain since the 7.9 per cent advance in October 1975.

The monthly increase for February worked out to a compound annual rate of about 11 per cent and left wholesale prices 6 per cent ahead of where they were a year ago.

The wholesale price index stood at 190, signifying that the goods which cost $100 in 1967 now cost $190.

Although increases in wholesale prices are not translated dollar-for-dollar into higher consumer prices in succeeding months, the wholesale price index does provide an indication of the inflationary pressures percolating through the economy. And February's increase broke the four-month pattern of increases registering five-tenths or six-tenths of a per cent.

The price of farm products climbed 2.2 per cent in February after a 1.1 per cent rise the previous month. And the price of foods and feeds after processing climbed 1.8 per cent, in contrast to January's two-tenths of a per cent drop.

Surveying farm products individually, Labor said prices for raw cotton and eggs rose sharply after declines in January. Live poultry, green coffee, cocoa beans, tea, grains and fresh and dried vegetables registered sharper increases than they had in January. Prices for fresh fruits and for hogs rose at a slower rate than in the previous month.

Cattle and oil seed prices were down after several months of increase.

Volunteers Fight Rash Of Fires

A rash of home and field fires have been fought by members of the Calloway County Fire-Rescue Squad for the past three days, according to squad members.

Tuesday morning the squad assisted the fire departments of Hazel and Puryear, Tenn., in fighting the flames that destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Martin of Hazel, located east of the Hazel Church of Christ. Another house and trailer by the house suffered damage due to the fire which also caused a field fire burning about five acres in the area.

Shortly after noon on Tuesday the mobile home of Jimmy and Karen Kelso on the Old Faxon Road was destroyed by fire. The squad answered the call, but the fire consumed the trailer and contents except for some clothes the family was able to save. Mr. and Mrs. Kelso are now with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Kelso and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Burken.

Nine fires were reported to the squad on Tuesday which included the two house fires, a field fire at the Calloway-Graves County line which burned three outbuildings, and field fires on Kentucky-Tennessee State Line Road, Elm Grove Church Road, Beach Road at Kirksey, near Lake Stop Grocery, and in Almo.

The squad answered calls Wednesday to field fires on the Backusburg Road and on Highway 94 East. Monday the squad had five calls including one for help in search for a little boy but who was found safe, and four field fires with one causing damage to a barn and back hoe owned by Chuck Hoke on the Wiswell Road which burned about ten or fifteen acres of land.

Rescue squad members said they had received 86 calls in Calloway County this year for help in fighting house and field fires. They urged the residents to be especially cautious in any outside burning that may get out of control and burn homes, buildings, equipment, etc. Certain time limits and laws regarding burning are now in effect during the fire season and the public is urged to observe these limits and laws, squad members said.

McDowell Home Scene Of Shower For Lisa McDaniel

Miss Lisa McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. McDowell of Murray, and March 12th bride-elect of James R. Yates, was the honoree at a delightfully planned miscellaneous shower held on Monday, February 28, at the home of Mrs. Bobby McDowell, 805 North 17th Street, Murray.

The hostesses for the event were Mesdames Jim Armbruster, George Hodge, Joe Pat James, Kenneth Jackson, Bobby McDowell, and Rex Thompson. Their gift to the honoree was the serving pieces to her flatware.

Mrs. David Poyner kept the guest register.

For the occasion Miss McDowell wore a pink jump suit of wide wale corduroy over a black jersey blouse featuring a cowl collar. Her mother chose to wear a tan wool pant suit with an off-white blouse. Miss McDowell wore a corsage of daisies into which two gold wedding rings were tied with ribbon in lovers-knots, and Mrs. McDowell wore a corsage of yellow carnations, both gifts of the hostesses.

The serving table, covered with a beige cloth, was centered with a container filled with a variety of live house plants interspersed with daisies. An assortment of cookies, nuts, coffee, and hot spiced tea were served from the beautifully appointed table.

A large wedding bell hung over a table covered with a cutwork cloth on which the gifts were displayed. Thirty-one persons were either present or sent gifts.

Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Jack Vaughn and Mrs. Glen Grogan were then presented to the honoree.

The hostesses presented Miss McDowell with the centerpiece from the serving table.

Tea Shower At Flint Hall Held For Miss Patti Miller

The Fellowship Hall of the Flint Baptist Church was the scene of the tea shower held in honor of Miss Patti Miller, March 11th bride-elect of Carl Hosford, held on Saturday, February 26, from two to four p.m.

Mesdames James Miller, Charles Miller, David Borders, Michael Miller, Newton Milam, John R. Imes, Odell Colson, and Pearl Short were the gracious hostesses for the special occasion.

Miss Miller chose to wear from her trousseau a peasant style floor length ivory dress accented with matching lace trim. Her corsage was of pink and blue daisies. Her mother-in-law to be, Mrs. Joe Hosford, wore a mint green knit dress and a hostesses' gift corsage of white carnations.

Refreshments of petit fours decorated with blue roses and green leaves, along with punch, nuts, and mints were served at the table covered with a white cloth and cen-

TEACHER APPRECIATION WEEK was observed by the Robertson Elementary School during the week of February 28. In a variety of ways students and parents expressed their appreciation to the teaching staff. Each day throughout the week brought some gesture of appreciation. Monday donuts were provided in the teachers' lounge, and on other days students brought flowers for the teachers, home baked cakes prepared by room mothers and cookies for their teachers and students in the room. Also each teacher was presented with a gift certificate for dining out. This at least one way in which the children and parents at Robertson School said to the teachers, "Thanks, We Appreciate You." Pictured on the left is Lori Rogers, second grader, presenting a flower to her teacher, Jane Taylor, and on the right is Dana Morton presenting a gift certificate for dining out to her teacher, Judy Baucum.

Creative Arts Group Hears Program By Mrs. Armstrong At Mar-Lane Shop

Members of the Creative Arts Department of the Murray Woman's Club met at Mar-Lane Ceramics on the Rob Mason Road on Monday, February 28, for the lesson workshop for the month.

Mrs. Martha Armstrong of the ceramics firm presented the lesson for the members.

Prior to going to the ceramics firm, the group met at the club house at 9:30 a.m. for the business meeting with Dee Ann Umar, chairman, presiding, and Ann Brooks, secretary, giving her reports. Sue Archer reported on the High School Art Contest for the summer art workshop as to the rules and guidelines with the dates to be given later.

Lifer Wants to Donate Kidney

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 36-year-old man who is in Rutland, Vt., doing 30 years to life for second-degree murder. I killed a 15-year-old girl. No reason. I just went off my rocker.

Now the problem: I read in your column that a lot of people need kidneys. I know that kidneys have been transplanted successfully, and I want you to put me in touch with someone who needs one so I can donate one of mine. I don't mean after I'm dead. I mean right now. I know a person can live with only one kidney so if I could give one of mine now maybe I could sleep better.

I realize I can't bring back that poor little girl whose life I took, but I could give some other person life. It won't balance the scales, but it would give some meaning to my life, which is practically useless now.

This letter was not written in haste. I've thought about it for a long time.

I'm not very religious, but God knows this is a sincere request. Can you help me get it granted, Abby?

GEORGE H.

DEAR GEORGE: I don't know the laws covering such a donation, but if you're sincere (and I believe you are) tell the chaplain of the correctional institution what you've told me, and he will advise you. God bless.

DEAR ABBY: A friend has asked me to play "Dear Abby" and mediate a fuss between her and her husband, and I honestly don't know what to tell her.

It seems that her husband is buggy because she is always doing knitting, needlepoint or some kind of handwork when they're watching TV or just visiting.

He says she has all day to do whatever she wants, and when he comes home, she should give him her undivided attention. He wants her to look at him while they're conversing.

She says she can hear every word he says, and she DOES look at him almost constantly, so he has no legitimate beef.

I can see his point, Abby, but I can also see hers. Do you think he has the right to ask her to quit doing needlework in his face? And should she just to please him?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: He hasn't the right to ask her to quit. Handwork for many (men as well as women) is therapeutic. It's relaxing and relieves tension. Tell her I said she should stick to her needlework—but look up a little more.

DEAR ABBY: I have a small but annoying problem I need help with. It seems that whenever I telephone a friend I haven't spoken to for some time, his or her first words are something like, "Well, I don't believe I am actually hearing from you," or, "My goodness, I thought you'd dropped off the edge of the earth, etc." I'm sure you get the idea, Abby.

It irks me to be put down with such a negative reception, when I have finally taken the initiative and called someone, as though it were MY obligation to do so.

It's the same kind of guilt some elderly folks or shut-ins lay on those who haven't been around to see them for a while. In other words, how does one cope with people who make you feel guilty?

IRKED

DEAR IRKED: No one can make you feel "guilty" unless you've earned the guilt. (Irritated, put down and even outraged perhaps, but not guilty.) There's no way to prevent others from needing you. Develop a tougher hide.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1977

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈

Don't be impulsive about making changes unless you are certain they will prove beneficial. Business pursuits highly favored.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉

A fair day. You can manage in better-than-average fashion, yet must take precautions neither to underestimate nor overestimate new propositions.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) ♊

Your know-how and ability to handle the unexpected could result in outstanding advantages. Spend time and talents constructively. This day will be rich in opportunity.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) ♋

Stress your innate enthusiasm and eagerness to do well but be willing, also, to WAIT out results, to accept temporary setbacks with inner calm.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌

You're in the spotlight now, with special emphasis on response to your efforts and presentation of ideas. Curb any tendency toward aggressiveness. Win your way through tact, diplomacy.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍

A day for action! Don't slow up progress by being overly meticulous, fussy, looking for nonexistent defects in your program.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎

While you await new developments or results of efforts, proceed with other good plans, ideas. Don't sit back, satisfied with previous endeavors—or gains.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) ♏

A day in which to curb your natural Martian aggressiveness with intelligent self-discipline, moderation. Avoid extremes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐

Neither fear to step into a new or changed picture, nor step too quickly before you are ready. Know your ground sufficiently and that of associates, too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑

Speak in discreet words, with temperance and compassion foremost—it will work wonders now. Opposition? It can be a healthy challenge: Self-control.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒

Give careful thought to decisions you must make soon. Try to understand thoroughly the jobs and involvements of the next few days. And be objective!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓

Influences highly stimulating. Overzealousness, overreaching may tempt. Hasty words and deeds could cause endless redoing and undoing; leave scars, too.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a high order of intellect which, coupled with a strong intensity of emotion, fits you for a life of creativity. You express yourself best in music and literature, but you could also excel in the ministry, as a teacher of metaphysics, in the entertainment field, or as an actor or painter. Your intuition is outstanding, but you do not always make the most of these intuitive powers—sometimes to ill effect. Governed by Neptune, you are strongly attracted to professions or activities dealing with the sea; could also make a success of physics and chemistry—especially in the mixing and blending of liquids. You are not a good businessman, so don't look to success along those lines. Birthdate of: Lawrence Welk, musical conductor and TV personality.

Pack 57, Cub Scouts of Carter School, held its Blue and Gold Banquet at the school with Dubmaster Gerald Carter announcing plans for a Kite Derby on a Saturday afternoon in March and the Pinewood Derby Race on March 24. Committee chairman Forrest Priddy gave a brief history about Cub Scouting and how it started. Calendars were given to the boys by the Peoples Bank. A meal was served to the boys and their parents. Boys receiving awards were, left to right, front row, Harry Coles, Billy Barnett, Robert LaMastus, Phillip Carter, Richard Jones, Brett Proctor, back row, Philip Witherington, Chris Franklin, Steve Bogard, David Randolph, Brad Skierkowski, Jay Watson, Terry Elkins, and Will Futrell.

Piano Students In Contest

Murray piano students U. Campus on Saturday, fared well in the Keyboard March 5.

Festival-Contest, sponsored annually by the Kentucky Music Teachers Association, which was held in the Fine Arts Department on the M. S.

Those receiving superior ratings in the junior level were Mark Austin, and Mark Hussung. Senior level performers who received superior ratings were Audrey Conley and Anne Gregory. Receiving "excellent" ratings were Brenda Conley in the junior level and Kim Alley in the senior level.

Students who appear in the K. M. T. A. Keyboard Festival are required to perform two selections from memory—one from the Baroque period of music, and the other of the student's choice from standard piano literature. They also must take a written theory examination. Students from Mayfield, Benton, Calvert City, and Madisonville appeared in the Festival here on Saturday, in addition to those from Murray, and entries included piano and organ.

The student in the senior division chosen by the adjudicator to represent the Murray region at the state-level competition next fall which is held in conjunction with the annual K. M. T. A. convention, was Nadia Ingram of Paducah, with Jay Fern, Calvert City, named as alternate.

Mark Twain Program Given At Zeta Meet

The Zeta Department of the Murray Woman's Club met Thursday, February 24, at the club house.

Mrs. Jack Bailey introduced Robert Valentine, Speech and Drama Professor from Murray State University, who gave a dramatization of Mark Twain's writings. Emphasis was placed on three different phases of his work.

After the program, members truly felt they had spent an evening with Mark Twain, Mrs. Bailey said.

The chairman, Mrs. Marshall Jones, welcomed members and conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Donald Jones reported that the Zeta "Read-A-Thon"

Dr. Kline And Jim Younts Speak On Tornadoes And Earthquakes

Dr. James Kline of the Physics and Astronomy Department, Murray State University was introduced by Dr. Mildred Hatcher, program chairman, at a luncheon meeting on February 26 of the Alpha Department of the Murray Woman's Club. She stated he is a most experienced speaker and teacher and has been a member of Murray State's faculty since 1964.

Jim Younts was introduced by Dr. Kline as a knowledgeable person in meteorology.

He spoke first concerning tornadoes and the difference between a tornado watch and a tornado warning. He said a tornado watch takes place when conditions are favorable for the formation of a tornado. A tornado warning is given when a tornado has been sighted, and people should take cover in the safest places they can find and lie down with heads covered.

Mr. Younts showed a film of a tornado striking the city of Neosho, Missouri and the results of having a disaster plan which saved many lives. This was an interesting demonstration of cooperation and good communications. Everyone knew where he was supposed to go and what he was supposed to do, Younts said.

Dr. Kline spoke on earthquakes in this section of the country. He displayed maps on which were indicated the several earthquake areas in our continent. He told of the New Madrid earthquakes and the meaning of measuring severity of tremors by seismographs.

His interesting discussion ended with a question session, and he was able to clarify many false ideas concerning earthquakes in this section, members said.

Dr. Hatcher presided over the business session. She welcomed Mrs. Charles May and Mrs. Eva Ross as new members.

The hostesses were Mrs. M. P. Christopher, Miss Mary Lassiter, Mrs. Max Hurt, and Mrs. Eva Ross.

Special Programs Planned Executive Board Meet Of Murray Woman's Club

Peggy Billington, president of the Murray Woman's Club, presided at the meeting of the Executive Board of the Club held on Monday, March 7, at the club house with the devotional thoughts being presented by Brenda Marquardt, recording secretary.

Announcement was made of the general meeting of the club to be held Monday, March 21, at 9:30 a. m. at the club house with the featured speaker to be Lois Keller, Murray, State Safety Chairman of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs. The various contestants in the music, arts and crafts, sewing, etc., will be participating in the program. Reservations for the brunch should be made with the various department chairmen by March 18, according to Bonnie Jones, first vice-president.

Cecelia Brock, second vice-president, announced that the district meeting will be held at the Ritz Hotel, Paducah, on Saturday, March 26, at 8:30 a. m. Reservations for the meal should be made with Mrs. Brock by March 24. Irma LaFollette, Murray, governor of the first district, will preside.

Plans were discussed for a work day to be held for the cleaning of the club house yard with each department being responsible for a part in this program.

Mrs. LaFollette urged members to support Beverly Benfield of Boaz as a candidate for third vice-president of the Kentucky State Federation, and also urged support of the magazine, "Kentucky Club Woman."

Others present were Dorothy McKenzie, Desiree Hosick, Helen Kline, Sina Richardson, Oneida Boyd, Anna Ruth Harris, Virginia Strohecker, Virginia Jones, Jo Burken, Beryl Whaley, and Betty Boston.

Miss Cindy Smith Honored At Several Bridal Events

Several prenuptial events have been held in honor of Miss Cindy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hafford W. Smith of Murray Route Five, who will be married to Robert Mohundro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mohundro of Murray Route Eight, on March 17.

The first was a personal shower held by Mrs. Cresti Mitchell, friend of the honoree, on Tuesday, February 15, at the Mitchell mobile home in Riviera Courts, Murray.

Nine persons were present or sent gifts.

Mrs. Reda Williams, cousin of the bride-elect, was hostess for a neighborhood shower

Local Scene Mrs. Major Presents Program, PEO Meet

Members of Chapter M of P. E. O. were given a picture tour of Southern Africa Monday evening, March 7, by Mrs. William Major. The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Morgan Sisk.

A fluent commentary accompanied the pictures which were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Major on their trip to Africa in 1974 Government buildings and homes of officials, a gold mine, monuments, street scenes with markets, natives and their village homes, and many animal pictures were included in the slide-talk. The brilliant flowers and, especially, the shrub, bougainvillea, with its massive blossoms were impressive city scenes. Mr. and Mrs. Major visited sections of Kenya, Tanzania, Ethiopia and Sudan.

Mrs. Major, the former Marjorie McElrath, is a native of Murray. She is manager for Far Lands Travel Agency, an active member of First United Methodist Church and the Magazine Club. She is the mother of a distinguished son, a Mineral Economist in Chicago, and a talented daughter, the wife of an Episcopal minister in Lewisburg, West Va.

The speaker's degrees are from Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., and University of Pittsburgh. She was initiated into Chapter AA in Pittsburgh in 1968, where she was an active member. Mr. and Mrs. Major returned to Murray in March, 1976.

The devotion was given by Mrs. A. H. Tittsworth who read from the 15th chapter of John.

During the business meeting officers for 1977-78 were elected and installed. With Mrs. Henry McKenzie former state president as the installing officer, the following will lead the organization the next year: Mrs. Olga Freeman, president; Mrs. Paul Sturm, vice-president; Mrs. Maurice Christopher, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred Lindsey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lewis Bessing, treasurer; Mrs. William Major, chaplain; and Mrs. A. C. LaFollette, guard.

The following delegates to the Kentucky State P. E. O. Convention, May 16-17, in Jenny Wiley State Park, Prestonsburg, were elected: Mrs. Freeman, first delegate and Mrs. Sturm, second. Alternates named were Mrs. LaFollette and Mrs. Sisk.

Mrs. Freeman was also selected to represent the local chapter in Supreme Convention in Chicago in the Fall. Mrs. George S. Hart was elected alternate. By virtue of her past offices, Mrs. McKenzie is eligible to attend both meetings.

A meringue-whipped cream dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. Sisk. Other members present not previously noted were Mesdames John C. Quermous, L. J. Horton, H. L. Oakley, and Miss Ann Herron. The next meeting will be a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Paul Sturm, March 19, at 12 o'clock.

Look Of Spring Is Given

From The Desk Of JEAN W. CLOAR Calloway County Extension Agent for Home Economics

This is the second in a series on the Look of Spring 1977 in fashions:

NEW NECKLINES FOR EVENING WEAR: New necklines were dominant features for evening wear. Satin piping edges a softly draped shoulder - interest creation by designer Bill Blass. Gloria Vanderbilt creates a navy sheath with an angular neckline piped with white. The halter neckline is still on the fashion scene as is the cowl neckline.

Again, the fabrics are soft and drape easily. For new evening Look, wear a V-neck vest with no blouse with skirt, pants, or gauchos and a blazer as a wrap.

ACCESSORY STORY REMAINS CONSTANT: Accessories remain constant for Spring '77. The higher heel shoe continues in a pump or sandal. Handbags continue with the shoulder and envelope bag.

Jewelry remains a cleaned-up look with good simple jewelry used in gold and silver. You will find gold chains, gold-filled jewelry, enamel and semi-precious stones and hypo-allergenic products. Porcelain or ceramic jewelry is a good choice. Bangles are treated with glazes to have the look of old ivory or antique Egyptian copper or gold. Fabric necklaces and chokers are featuring seashells or vermeil abstract designs.

Turbans, sporty brims and spectator hats are still standard headgear for early spring.

Look for lots of maillots (one-piece) in swimwear.

Knotted rope belts make for fashion news.

FABRICS AND COLORS: The emphasis is on the natural fibers with silks and linens leading the cotton crop of gauze, muslin, burial, trash, dishcloth looks, eyelet, and madras. Wools are making a comeback for spring. Taffeta will remain on the fashion scene. Silk will be teamed with knits, burlaps, and crepe de chine. Knits will still be popular, especially clingy, cotton knits.

The French designers are taking two fabric directions: stiff and crisp; soft tactile. For stiff and crisp fabrics, the choices are taffeta in tiered, full, flounced skirts, eyelet, ruffia - weave cottons for long, full beachy skirts with bare tops.

For soft and tactile fabrics, terry cloth, silk crepe de chine, sheer cotton voiles and brushed lightweight wools are used.

Important pattern news is stripes from subtle and narrow to bold and bright. Handkerchief and border prints also are important looks.

Solids will appear in interesting color combinations. Colors range from the naturals and whites to the powder combinations of red, turquoise, copper and teal. Bright colors will also be found.

Local Economic Conditions Bright

Our belief that the economy of Murray and Calloway County is healthy is supported by the Murray Chamber of Commerce's Business Barometer, which revealed total retail sales in Calloway County during 1976 of $115 million.

This record sales total was accomplished despite the strike by union employees at Tappan, the community's major industrial employer, for the entire year.

The ability of our business community to weather the adverse effects of this strike speaks well for our economy as a whole.

Murray and Calloway County is the fastest growing business and industrial community in the Jackson Purchase. We offer more to consumers than any other surrounding community and these consumers, much to our pleasure, are shopping in our community. And they will continue to shop here if we continue to promote our community and let the shoppers know what is offered on the shelves of Murray stores.

All in all, the chamber's report paints a bright picture for Murray and Calloway County. In the past year, local individual income increased by some $12 million to $122,116,000 in Calloway County. And individual income is projected to increase another $10.5 million during 1977 to a record $132,897,000.

Couple this with the prediction that local retail sales will increase to $126,437,000 during 1977 and we see a pretty secure future for Calloway County.

Our community offers more and better services and merchandise to the consumer and that is why it is more-and-more being recognized as the hub of the region. The Murray Ledger & Times, with daily circulation at an all-time high, will continue, as in the past, to promote the local community and its assets both at home and in the neighboring counties.

But, while we feel secure about our future now, we also recognize that if we expect to receive another rosy report at this time next year on the business figures for 1977, we cannot sit back and rest on our laurels.

We must continue to expand our business and industrial base, as well as our agribusiness interests, and we must continue to support and promote our community and its businesses to the fullest in order to maintain the leadership of our region.

Garrott's Galley Hey, Mr. Firemen! Please Come Quickly But Quietly!

By M. C. Garrott

Few things frighten me more than to suddenly suspect the house is on fire. Talk about something that sends me into high gear! That does! The speed with which I can check out the place resembles an old Keystone Kops movie run at full speed.

I have had considerable practice at this of late. Twice within the last couple of years it has happened to me. The first time, we were quietly watching television about 10 o'clock one night when we noticed thin layers of smoke forming in the room.

"Something's on fire!" I exclaimed. "Call the Fire Department while I see if I can find what it is!" Up into the attic I scrambled. Under the house I crawled. Then the fuse box, behind the washer and dryer, the refrigerator, the TV. I checked everything and everywhere, and all within a matter of seconds. I couldn't find a thing, but the smoke was getting thicker and thicker.

Within minutes, the street outside was full of fire trucks and the yard full of neighbors. Red lights flashed and sirens whined into silence as the firemen trooped into the house — big hats, boots, raincoats, axes and all. You could have brushed Jeffrey's eyes off with a whisk broom.

Thank goodness, they found the problem before they had to use those axes. The motor in the furnace, which is outside, apparently had caught fire and burned away some wires or something. It had to be replaced. Beyond that, there was no damage.

It was all kind of embarrassing after it was over, but it is certainly a good feeling to know that our firemen can respond to a call so promptly.

All was quiet until last Wednesday night. We had been home only a few minutes from prayer meeting before Cathryn said, "I smell something burning!" "So do I!" piped up Jeffrey. Even with my red and bulbous nose—a carryover from my bout with a virus—I could also detect it.

Away I went again! Up in the attic on a rickety ladder, under the house, to the fuse box, outside to the furnace, everywhere. I couldn't find a thing—no smoke, just the odor. We didn't dare go to bed without locating the source, but, gosh, I hated to call out the firemen and disturb everyone in our end of town again.

"I'll just go get one and bring him out here," I told Cathryn. "Maybe he can find it. You keep looking while I'm gone." And off to the fire station I went. They were there — Ronnie Gardner, Richie Clark, James Spann, Harold Hill, Jackie Holt, Artie Haneline and Ronnie Burnett.

They listened closely as I explained my predicament. Sure, they would check it out, they said, but several would have to go and they would have to take a truck. That's the law. They never

The Editor's Notebook

By GENE McCUTCHEON
Murray Ledger & Times Editor

Two very unrelated events took place in Washington, D. C., yesterday that frightened us for different reasons.

One was the seizure of three buildings in our nation's capitol by terrorists; the other the proposed ban on the use of saccharin by the federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

O+O

We'll take the terrorism first. Bands of machete-wielding, gun-toting renegades took over three buildings in Washington and are holding as many as 100 persons hostage. At least one person was killed in the raids and a dozen others were wounded.

These acts, and others like them, cannot be tolerated. We feel that those who instigate an act of terrorism should be dealt with in the same manner. Let the terrorists' punishment fit his or her crime rather than slapping their hands and sending them back on the street to be "rehabilitated."

Not that we're against rehabilitation, but we feel the line must be drawn somewhere.

O+O

Now for the saccharin ban. The FDA has announced a ban on the sale and use of saccharin, the only artificial sweetener (sugar substitute) available to Americans since the FDA banned cyclamates. In announcing the ban, the FDA cited a Canadian study that found that large doses of the sweetener caused cancer in laboratory rats.

The key word in that last sentence is large.

The Canadian study revealed that the artificial sweetener caused bladder cancers in rats fed a diet of 5 per cent pure saccharin for their entire lives.

The study involved two groups of 100 rats with one group getting the saccharin diet and one group a regular diet. Fourteen of the rats on the diet supplemented with saccharin developed cancerous bladder tumors compared with only two such tumors found in the no-saccharin group.

That's all well and good. And the FDA may have grounds to ban the use of saccharin. But we're not yet convinced. To explain why we're not, we'll go a bit further.

A human would have to drink 800 12-ounce diet sodas per day for a lifetime to consume an amount of saccharin equal to that fed the rats according to acting FDA Commissioner Sherwin Gardner.

That equals 75 gallons of diet soft drink per day for a lifetime. Are they kidding?

And there's another serious aspect to be considered. What about Americans who, through no desire of their own, are afflicted with diabetes or must restrict their intake of sugar for other reasons?

The FDA says it would consider allowing doctors to prescribe saccharin for those who can't eat sugar. We wonder what that would do to the now reasonable price of saccharin.

The wisdom of Washington sometimes amazes us.

ACCIDENTS

Grass Valley — Volunteer firemen had nearly extinguished two small storage building fires in this July California community Monday when they noticed an odd thing: their fire truck — with hoses still attached — was moving. The firemen tried to catch it. But it was no go; gathering speed, the pumper roared downhill through the center of town. On the way, it — injured five of the volunteer firemen, who got tangled in the hose. — Caused a woman onlooker to fall and break a knee, trying to get out of the way. — Crushed the side of a car owned by a fireman. — Felled a power pole, cutting electricity to most of the town. — Slammed into another parked car, pushed it into two more parked cars, jumped a curb, and finally came to rest with its front end in the living room of a home at the end of the street.

While in Prague, Czechoslovakia, an elderly man walked through a red light. A car braked to avoid hitting him. When it skidded, the back door flew open and a young girl with a shopping bag spilled into the street. A spectator cried out and rushed toward the car, which stopped undamaged at the curb. An old woman was crying and screaming in the car. The careless pedestrian turned out to be the father, the driver the son, the girl who fell out the daughter, the spectator another son and the lamenting woman inside the mother of the family.

Let's Stay Well

Caffeine Pills No Substitute

Q. Mr. T. F. asks whether the benefits of coffee could not be more economically obtained by using less of it and substituting pills of caffeine.

A. While caffeine is the active, stimulating ingredient in coffee, tea and certain colas, other ingredients give the flavors and odors that make such drinks popular.

Coffee is the most complicated of all drinks. It contains over 2,000 separate compounds and can never be prepared synthetically. It will continue to come only from coffee beans.

Caffeine tablets are available at most pharmacies, and each tablet, which contains about the amount of caffeine found in a cup of coffee, costs one or two cents. A tablet could be added to a very diluted cup of coffee to make the caffeine content higher, though much of the usual satisfactory flavor would be lacking.

I have read that the average American consumes about 800 cups of coffee per year. If many of us are using the beverage excessively.

The shift to substituting caffeine pills will probably not take place because of the lack of the usual satisfaction derived from other ingredients in the various popular drinks.

I would not recommend caffeine tablets in place of coffee.

nated drinks. I suggest that a pharmacist or physician be consulted before one uses caffeine tablets as a substitute for his usual beverages or as a means of strengthening their stimulating effects.

'Send Help' Sign For Roof of Stalled Car

Q. Mr. P. S. recently saw on top of a stalled car on the highway a sign about one-by-two feet which read "Send Help." It was apparently made to stick up securely from the roof of the automobile.

He thinks this is a great idea to promote safety and a big improvement on the old idea of tying a handkerchief to a door handle or radio aerial.

A. I agree with you and am passing this idea along to our readers.

Perhaps the American Automobile Association, automobile insurance companies, and other merchants will produce such signs and encourage their general use. They could be carried in the car's trunk and attached to the roof to attract attention especially if the color of the lettering were the distinctive reflective orange that is highly visible even at night. The sign would possibly be seen by a greater number of people who could help stranded drivers.

Anthony Roberts Scores 65 In Loss, Indiana State Ousted

By The Associated Press
"Sixty-five points don't mean a thing because we lost," said a dejected Anthony Roberts, whose record 65-point output could not prevent a 90-89 loss by Oral Roberts to Oregon in an opening-round game of the National Invitation Tournament.

The 6-foot-6 senior connected on 25 field goals and 15 free throws Wednesday night, breaking the NIT record of 53 points by George Mikan in 1945.

In other NIT opening-round games, Virginia Tech beat Georgetown 83-79, Villanova defeated Old Dominion 71-68 in overtime and Houston edged Indiana State 83-82.

Virginia Tech rallied from a 40-37 intermission deficit against Georgetown, and along with the other winners, earned a berth in next week's NIT quarter-finals at Madison Square Garden, against the winner of tonight's Alabama-Memphis State game. Virginia Tech won the NIT title in 1973.

Villanova trailed Old Dominion's Monarchs for most of the game before inching ahead late in the second half. The score was tied 65-65 at the end of regulation.

Houston's victory lifted the Cougars into the quarter-finals against Illinois State, which defeated Creighton 65-58 Tuesday night.

Oregon's Ernie Kent, one of four players assigned to defense Anthony Roberts, shouted "Unbelievable!" as he watched the Titans' star continually fire the ball through the basket.

Oregon took the lead after a 40-40 halftime tie as forward Greg Ballard scored 43 points, helping offset Roberts' one-man show.

In the Virginia Tech-Georgetown game, the Gobblers grabbed the lead on a layup by Marshall Ashford with 14:04 remaining. A drive by Ron Bell and two free throws by Phil Thieneman built the margin to 55-50.

Ashford hit 16 of his 24 points in the second half.

Georgetown got a game-high 28 points from Derrick Johnson. The Hoyas twice closed the gap to two points in the final three minutes.

Villanova, 21-9, trailed by as many as 11 points against the Monarchs but pulled even on a field goal by Whitey Rigby with 4:53 to go. A 20-footer by Old Dominion's Jeff Fuhrmann with 1:05 left forced the game into overtime.

With one minute left, Indiana State's Larry Bird tied the score 82-82. With 37 seconds remaining, though, the Sycamores' Dan Rutledge fouled Mike Schultz, who made his first shot but missed the second. Bird got the ball under the basket but his jump shot bounced off the rim as the buzzer sounded.

Houston goes to the quarter-finals 27-7.

In other college basketball action, the University of North Carolina-Charlotte edged New Orleans 71-70 for the championship in the first Sun Belt Tournament.

How do you stop a machine? If you can't stop it any other way, you may hope the electricity goes off for a while. The electricity did go off for a few minutes Wednesday night but then the machine, Paducah Tilghman, came back to life behind the electrifying play of Delbert Shumpert and crushed Marshall County 78-60.

The win by Tilghman will put the second-rated Tornado in the semifinals Friday at the MSU Sports Arena. And to make things even more fun, they'll be playing top-ranked Symsonia, with the winner advancing to the championship game of the First Region Tournament Saturday night.

At one point in the first half, Tilghman held a 32-16 lead over Marshall County. In fact, in the first quarter, Tilghman hit 12 of 17 field goal attempts in rolling to a 24-14 lead at the end of the first period.

"We're both good shooting teams and I knew it would boil down to who made the fewest mistakes and what team had the ball more," Tilghman coach Bernie Miller said.

"At one point in the game, we hit 17 of 25 shots. You just can't play all night like that against a good team," Miller added.

They didn't. The electricity went off for a while and Marshall County actually came back and at one point in the third quarter, forged to a 44-42 lead.

And then the electricity came back on. And the "juice" was supplied by Shumpert.

After the Marshals had taken the lead, Shumpert exploded and hit four consecutive field goals.

He was simply unstoppable. Firing in jumpers from 20 and 25 feet, Shumpert looked like one of the top guards in the state, which he is supposed to be.

Not only did he wind up hitting 14 of 26 field goals and finishing with 32 points but he also had eight assists and picked off seven rebounds.

And if that wasn't enough, he held 6-3 Marshall County guard Jeff Copeland to 12 points on just 5-16 shooting, far below par for Copeland, who is also one of the better guards in the area.

"We had Shumpert on Copeland because we knew he was one of their best shooters and we felt we had to contain them from the outside. We figured we could match up well with them inside," Miller said.

"Whoever Shumpert guards isn't going to score many points," Miller added with a smile.

The Marshals were simply intimidated and frustrated in the first half. They were beaten badly on the boards and 6-3 Richard Abraham, one of the most physical players in western Kentucky and only a junior, completely dominated the inside play.

With Monty Moss supplying the punch, the Marshals chipped away at a 36-28 halftime deficit and finally tied the game up at 42 apiece when Jeff Brandon hit from five feet with 4:07 left in the third period. Moss scored six of the Marshall County points in the rally.

Then with 3:18 left, workhorse George Phelps powered his way inside to score and the Marshals went up 44-42. After Abraham crashed the offensive boards to tie the score, Shumpert got hot and by the end of the period, Tilghman had a 58-50 lead.

TWO MORE—Delbert Shumpert (20) of Tilghman goes inside and puts in two of his 32 points while Jeff Copeland (33) and Chris Orr of the Marshals defend. Shumpert hit 14 of 26 from the field.

76ers Edge Nuggets As Dr. J. Explodes For 38

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The red, white and blue ball and the three-point basket are things of the past, but the American Basketball Association lives on.

Julius Erving squared off against David Thompson Wednesday night in a matchup of two of the old ABA's brightest stars. Erving lost the battle 40-38, but he won the war.

Erving's Philadelphia 76ers trimmed Thompson's Denver Nuggets 129-125 in a double overtime thriller between two of the National Basketball Association's strongest clubs. And Erving said the victory might have given Denver something to think about.

"They're definitely one of the best clubs in the league, but they've got to respect us because we've beaten them three out of four," said Erving, who sent the game into overtime by scoring on a bank shot, a dunk and two free throws in the final 70 seconds of regulation play, wiping out a six-point Denver lead.

Philadelphia took the lead for good on a jumper by Doug Collins with 2:42 to go in the second overtime. A jumper by Thompson that would have tied the score with 15 seconds left bounced off the rim.

Erving's 38 points were his season's high, while Thompson's 40 tied his top output of the season.

The 76ers, playing before a near-sellout crowd of 18,021 at the Spectrum in Philadelphia, fell behind 60-46 at halftime.

Sonics 114, Celtics 86
Slick Watts had 26 points as the Sonics took the lead early and held it the rest of the way. Boston's Sidney Wicks, meanwhile, reached the 1,000-point mark for the sixth consecutive season with a third-period basket.

Bucks 109, Bullets 107
The Bucks led by 10 points midway through the second half, then held off a late Washington rally. Bob Dan-dridge led the way for Milwaukee by scoring 20 of his game-high 26 points in the second half, including a clinching basket with 22 lead. Rico Sutton hit the opening basket of the final quarter to make it 60-50 before Brandon hit a free throw to trim the Tilghman lead to nine points. Then Sutton and Shumpert both hit short shots and Tilghman led 64-51 with 4:40 left in the game and it was all over.

The largest lead of the game came in the final minute when Shumpert hit from 15 feet to put the Tornado up 78-57.

Following Shumpert's 32 was Abraham, who had 18 points and 10 rebounds. Sutton added 14 points.

For the Marshals, Phelps had 18 points and 10 rebounds in ending his fine career while Copeland had 12, Brandon 11 and Moss 10.

Tilghman hit 36 of 62 in the game for a 58.1 mark but the big key was the fact they outrebounded the Marshals 37-27, with many of the rebounds being putbacks by Abraham. An oddity was that the Marshals had only one foul in the first half and only eight in the game.

"They could afford to foul some and play a little more aggressive in the second half because of the foul situation," Miller said.

"But it wasn't as much of a factor as it normally would have been simply because we weren't getting the ball inside that much in the first half. Then in the second half, we went back to our bread and butter. Abraham really controlled the boards for us," Miller added.

"We stood around too much on defense I thought," Marshall County coach Rick Leeper said.

"We went full court, man-to-man and I had hoped it would get us running up and down the court. When a team jumps out like that in the first quarter and hits 12 of 17 from downtown, it has a tendency to demoralize you," Leeper added.

Marshall County bows out at 15-12 while Tilghman will take a 23-7 record into their semifinal game Friday.

The equity in your house is like money in your pocket.

Equity is the difference between how much your home is worth, and what you owe on it.

It's a valuable asset you can use to back a really big loan. For whatever you have in mind.

Real estate values are up, up, up.

So the house you bought just a few years ago probably would sell for a lot more than you paid.

Which means your equity is bigger. And the bigger your equity, the more you can borrow in a large real-estate loan. Right here. Right now.

Maybe the money you're looking for is already in the house.

Large loans for homeowners.

'The Bird' Picks Up Where He Left Off, Pete Rose Unhappy

By The Associated Press
Mark Fidrych picked up where he left off last season, pitching three scoreless innings for the Detroit Tigers in a 5-4 exhibition opener against the Boston Red Sox, but there was discontent at Cincinnati's camp as the Reds' 10-time All-Star third baseman Pete Rose refused to sign his contract.

In the Detroit-Boston game Wednesday at Winter Haven, Fla., Jason Thompson, Ben Oglivie and Mickey Stanley cracked home runs for the Tigers. Fidrych, the American League's Rookie of the Year who won 19 games last year, gave up only three hits in three innings.

At Tampa, Fla., Rose said he wouldn't sign, and decried what he called a lack of appreciation by the Reds for his dedication. He said he might play out his option because of the bitter salary dispute.

"Why are they negotiating on the date of my birth rather than on my batting average?" said the 36-year-old Rose, who has batted .300 in 11 of his last 12 years.

Rose has played 2,184 games in his 17-year career with the Reds' organization.

And there was just as much bitterness in Boston, where pitching ace Luis Tiant said he might go back to Mexico after failing to come to terms with the Red Sox on his demand for an extension of his contract and a no-cut clause.

"The way I'm feeling right now is I'll go home," he said. "I've had enough."

His contract runs through the 1977 season and he wants it stretched another year. He had asked for a three-year contract but said he had negotiated most recently for just two.

At the Montreal Expos' Daytona Beach, Fla., spring training camp, team management invoked the automatic renewal clause on infielder Rodney Scott's contract, completing the team's 40-man roster for 1977.

At St. Petersburg, Fla., veteran catcher Jerry Grote signed a one-year contract with the New York Mets for a reported $125,000. His signing leaves Dave Kingman the only

Special Olympics Team Wins Tourney

Two teams from Murray Middle School fared well in the Special Olympics Basketball State Tournament held in Owensboro on March 5 and 6. The two teams won first place state titles in two categories of play, Boys AA (16 years of age and older) and Boys AA (15 years of age and under).

The team consisting of those players 16 years and older won the championship game by defeating Webster County 45-22. The younger team beat the McLean County team to win the state title, 44-19.

While the tournament provided the members of the team with an opportunity to travel through western Kentucky, the banquet on the last night of play enabled the boys to meet other members from all over the state.

Other activities included swimming, sight seeing, and roller skating. For some players the trip provided their first experiences away from Murray.

A special thanks goes to the Murray Civitan Club and the Murray Moose Lodge number 2011 for generously sponsoring the trip.

The teams are now eligible to enter into the Great Lakes Regional Tournament in April at Michigan City, Indiana.

holdout. Kingman is seeking $3 million over five years.

The Chicago White Sox handed renewal contracts to Ken Brett, Jim Essian and Wayne Nordhagen and club Vice President Roland Hemond promised others would be coming. For Brett, at least, no salary cut was involved.

The Cleveland Indians completed their signings when Bill Melton came to terms on a one-year contract. The Phillies signed rookies Rick Bosetti, an outfielder, and Jim Morrison, a third baseman, to three-year contracts, leaving Philadelphia with eight unsigned players.

Success Hasn't Made 'The Bird' Different

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — "The Bird" is back — flighty and flaky as ever but totally unspoiled.

"My head must have left my body," said Mark "the Bird" Fidrych, trying to explain an uncharacteristic lapse into absent-mindedness in his 1977 pitching debut for the Detroit Tigers.

The 22-year-old rookie of the year, whose strong right arm and bizarre histrionics on the mound made him a national folk hero last season, pitched three scoreless innings, allowing three hits, as the Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox 5-4 Wednesday in baseball's spring opener.

He forgot and left his cap in the dugout at the start of the second inning. At the end of the inning he ran off the field after the second out, thinking the side was retired. He grabbed the wrong cap when he went to the mound in the third inning, and a bat boy rushed out to make the exchange.

"I heard somebody yell,

"Get your head screwed on, dummy,"" Fidrych said. "I don't know what happened to me. I guess I was too involved. I was thinking too much about the game. I was pumping too hard."

"The Bird" is always pumping — that's his trademark.

More than 4,000 fans had assembled at the Red Sox Chain O'Lakes Park when Fidrych and his teammates arrived by bus from nearby Lakeland an hour before game time. Traffic was jammed up for miles, delaying the arrival of American League President Lee MacPhail.

Hand-made signs dotted the stands: "Welcome to the Bird," "The Bird is back," "We love the Bird."

In the lockerroom, the 6-foot-2 stringbean with the shock of blond corkscrews for hair was greeted by a battery of newsmen from all around the training circuit.

"No pictures, no interviews before the game," the young pitcher said. "I've got to think."

Once outside, however, he could not turn his back on his adoring army, ranging from kids to grandpas, pleading for autographs.

"I've never seen anything like it — this kid is the greatest draw in baseball," said Hal Middlesworth, Detroit director of public relations. "He started 29 games for us last year, drew 901,239 — an average of 31,077 — a regular magnet."

The free-spirited native of Worcester, Mass., has brought a breath of fresh air to a game bogged down with labor strife and lawsuits, putting on the best show in town last year while compiling a 19-9 record and leading the major league with an earned run average of 2.34.

His father is Polish, his mother Danish and he is the lone son among three sisters. He drove a pickup truck to the ball park until a Detroit motor company gave him a new sports car and the Tigers raised his salary from $16,500 at the start of last year to a three-year graduating scale of $50,000-$75,000-$100,000.

Somebody asked him if he feared, because of his wide publicity, he might start getting hammy and cocky.

"Me? Not a chance. I've been this way all my life. I can't change."

Powerful Symsonia Coasts To Easy Victory Over Fulton City

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
"I'm just so proud to be here," Minnie Pearl always screams as she walks on the stage or in front of the television cameras to bring her country comedy to audiences.

Fulton City was the same way Wednesday night in the Murray State Sports Arena. They were proud to be there. After all, not since 1970 had the Bulldogs made it to the First Region Tournament.

After taking an 80-55 licking from top-ranked Symsonia in the opening game of Regional play, the Bulldogs were probably just as proud in leaving as they were in walking in the door.

After all, the Bulldogs came into the game with a 5-16 record, the worst in the tournament. But for much of the first half, the Bulldogs sank their teeth in Symsonia and grabbed on while the Rough Riders kept trying to get away.

"We had some floor mistakes that really hurt us toward the end of the second half," Fulton City coach Gwin Wood said.

Everyone had expected Symsonia to be out in front by at least 20 if not more at halftime. But with only 3:05 left in the half, two free throws by the Bulldogs' Brent Ragsdale cut the Rough Rider lead to just six points at 31-25.

Then Symsonia used its extremes, 6-4 leaper James Whittemore and 5-7 guard Mark McManus to break the game open. McManus hit from 15, as he usually has no trouble in doing, then Whittemore hit from five feet. McManus then came back and scored on a fastbreak after stealing the ball and suddenly, it was 37-25.

Ragsdale again hit two free throws before the Rough Riders ran off the final seven points of the half and took a 44-27 lead at intermission.

Symsonia came out running and hit the first bucket of the second half. They never stopped running either. At one point, the lead reached 29 points before both benches emptied in the final minutes of the game.

"Symsonia was just too tough for us inside," Wood said.

"We just don't have the size to contend with people like Whittemore and Tim Allred. Trying to jump with them really took its toll," Wood added.

Fulton produced ties of 2, 4, 6 and 8 and 10 but then fell behind 17-12 at the end of the first period. After falling behind by eight, the Bulldogs rallied and closed to within 31-25 before Symsonia began to pull away.

"They got about five fast-breaks on us toward the end of the half," Wood said.

"That's what got us behind. We tried concentrating on their guards and I thought we closed off the big boys pretty well in the first half."

"But when you don't have much height, you can't do both for very long. We lose four guards off our team and other than that, we have everyone back next year so we're hoping we can make it back to Murray," Wood added.

Symsonia coach Don Butler said he was somewhat fooled by Fulton City.

"They had a lot more quickness than we thought they'd have. We hadn't seen them play this year and really didn't know how to prepare for them. It's kind of hard to get a team psyched up when they know they are playing against a 5-16 team."

"I think playing Murray High in a regular season game on this floor helped us some," Butler added.

"We went ahead and tried to break some with them, hoping to wear them down and that's what we did. I felt we rushed it a little too much in the first half and made too many mistakes. We just weren't taking enough time on our penetration passes," Butler added.

Of course the key in the game was Symsonia's talent. The Rough Riders shot 31 of 51 for a 60.8 clip and had an overwhelming 38-15 lead in the rebound department.

Tim Allred's 21 points led the Rough Riders while Whittemore had 19 and Mark McManus 14. For the Bulldogs, Anthony Parker tossed in 14 while Ragsdale had 12.

Symsonia is now 26-4 on the season and will meet Paducah Tilghman at 8:45 p.m. Friday in the semifinals. Earlier in the year, Tilghman won a 69-64 game over Symsonia at the Tilghman Christmas Tournament.

TOUGH TASK—Fulton City had a tough task in trying to stay on the boards with Symsonia. Here, James Whittemore (55) and Jeff Downing (23) of the Rough Riders go after the ball as do Wesley Huddleston and Anthony Parker (31) of the Bulldogs.

Plumbing Code Committee Recommends Adopting Use Of Composting Toilets

The Kentucky Plumbing Code Committee has recommended to the state environmental department that the Clivus Multrum composting toilet be adopted for use. Adoption will make Kentucky the third state, behind Maine and New Hampshire, to approve the toilet.

The Clivus Multrum (Latin for "inclining," Swedish for "compost room"), is a non-mechanical, waterless toilet that reduces human waste and organic kitchen waste to humus suitable for garden fertilizer.

The move followed a recommendation by the state Division of Water Quality that the Clivus Multrum "roughing filter," a separate system from the toilet, that protects leach pipes from clogging, be approved by the committee. The committee had questioned how graywater (bath, wash and dish water) would be handled if the system were put into operation.

The division, in a memo to the committee, also advised that a 40 per cent reduction in drain field size be considered since no toilet water will enter a drain field. Toilet water accounts for 40 per cent of water used in the average household.

The committee's only other question on the Clivus Multrum, about possible odor, was answered by Lou Deluca of Lawrenceburg in Anderson County, who has been using a Clivus Multrum for the past one and one-half years.

He told the committee that, "if the vent pipe is installed properly there is really no odor in the bathroom itself and there is no odor around the hatch (covering the storage area where the humus collects,) which seems remarkable to me."

He added, "If decomposition is being done properly, then there is no odor and apparently mine is working properly."

A natural draft, like that in a chimney, causes a suction effect at the vent pipe opening above the roof. This causes all air to be drawn down the toilet and kitchen chutes when the lids to either chute are open. The result is natural ventilation.

The system itself is a three-stage tank placed in the basement of a home. Human waste goes down a chute from the toilet into the first stage of the tank while a counter-top garbage inlet in the kitchen sends food wastes to the tank's second stage.

The tank, which is usually lined with peat moss or top soil, is set at a 30-degree angle causing the waste to slide into the sloping bottom of the tank and the third stage at a rate that allows decomposition.

The humus, described as smelling like rich topsoil, is only five to 10 per cent of the volume of the original waste, since 90 to 95 per cent of the waste is given off in the form of harmless gas that goes up through the vent.

Because of the reduction in waste volume achieved in decomposition, it is only necessary to partially empty the storage chamber after two to four years of use. The excrement and kitchen waste chambers are never emptied and, according to the manufacturers, the storage chamber is large enough to store up to 10 years worth of compost produced by a family of four to six persons.

Environmentalists have advocated the compost toilet as a means of saving water. Larry Jones, representative of Clivus Multrum in Kentucky, reports that the average person contaminates 13,000 gallons of water annually.

"The market for this device, I'm sure will be people concerned about the ecology and the environment that feel there is no need to contaminate perfectly usable drinking water."

Cost of the system runs from approximately $900 to $1,500 for the Clivus Multrum and the graywater filtering system.

The committee's recommendation will go to Robert D. Bell, secretary of the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection. If the department approves the Clivus Multrum, it will be added to the approved plumbing parts and materials list and will become part of the plumbing code.

The class for elementary art teachers of Murray State University, taught by Richard Jackson, is shown making decorations for the dinner and show to be held in the private dining room of the Colonial House Smorgasbord on Thursday, March 10, and Friday, March 11, at 7:30 p. m. The evening is being planned by sponsors of the newly formed Community Children's Theatre in order that the public may meet the theatre director, Richard Valentine. A limited number of tickets are now on sale at the Bank of Murray, Peoples Bank, and the Public Library. Some of the decorations will be sold each evening with the proceeds going to the Children's Theatre. Pictured, left to right, are Lelda Morris, Susan Shelton, and Lisa Little.

Commission Hears Progress Reports On Ohio River Basin

The Environmental Quality Commission heard three progress reports recently on Ohio River Basin power plant siting. All stressed the necessity of both inter- and intra-state coordination.

Frank Harscher, a Kentucky representative to the National Governor's Conference (NGC), told the commission that information on power plant siting is being gathered nationwide. A detailed report won't be available for several months, but it's already clear that states must cooperate and coordinate their efforts, Harscher said.

Harscher works with the NGC's committee on natural resources and environmental management, which Gov. Carroll chairs.

Fred Moor, chairman of the Ohio River Basin Commission, reported that his group is studying the power plant situation from another angle — the effect power plants will have on water quality and, thus, on fish, wildlife and people.

Moor's group is responsible for all water-related planning, which also emphasizes coordinated, comprehensive efforts.

Damon Harrison, acting head of the Policy and Advisory Committee on Energy, said that his group provides still another approach. "We're projecting population and economic growth in order to determine energy needs," said Harrison, who also directs Kentucky's Energy Department.

In other action, the commission:

— Received an update on Maxey Flats studies. Dames and Moore Consultants have been hired by the state Department of Finance and Administration at a cost of $125,000 to do a literature search of information already compiled on Maxey Flats.

— Re-elected Jackie Swigart chairperson; Bill Gorman, vice-chairman; and Oscar Gerald, secretary.

European Trains

By JIM BRAVARD, JR.

This past summer, while attending the Kentucky Institute for European Studies in Bregenz, Austria, I was able to do an extensive amount of traveling in Austria and the adjoining countries of continental Europe.

The interesting part about traveling in Austria is that it isn't necessary to leave the country by boat or plane, as Austria is a landlocked nation, and traveling by plane can be expensive. All of Europe is veined with an elaborate network of trains. The European train system is well-organized with almost all of its services uniform throughout Europe.

To begin an excursion by train one first locates a train station, checks the departure schedule and then chooses his destination. I bought a Eurailpass, which avoided the inconvenience of waiting in line to buy a ticket, and which allowed me to simply board any second-class train in Europe.

The typical train car is divided into four or five compartments, each with seating for six to eight people.

An empty compartment offers a choice of three seats: by the window, by the door or in the center. Smoking and non-smoking cars are available, which are well-marked in English, French and German. The compartments generally offer pleasant travel, except under certain adverse conditions, as when the train is overcrowded or the weather is hot and humid.

There are two types of compartments on European trains. One type has a vinyl bench-style seat on either side of the compartment which seats four people to each bench, eight in a compartment. The other type has three seats on either side of the compartment that are very similar to airline seats covered with cloth material and equipped with headrests. These seats slide down towards each other, forming a make-shift bed that is much appreciated by tired travelers throughout Europe.

The simplest and least attractive train car in Europe has acquired a popular misnomer — the "cattle car."

This car doesn't have compartments, only vinyl bench seats with an aisle in the middle. Each bench seats two people and faces each other. The car's label is misleading, except perhaps during rush-hour commuting, when people worldwide seem to experience some degree of a "herded" feeling.

A somewhat smaller version of a regular train, the "narrow gauge" train, reaches small towns and villages which the curious traveler is so eager to visit. The tracks are closer together with a narrower wheelbase and a rather rickety, swaying ride.

Another valuable use of the train system in Europe is the inexpensive night travel it provides. With a Eurailpass sleeping on trains provides free lodging for the night, although sleeping with two other people in a compartment, each with a make-shift bed, is not always possible. Also, sometimes all the people in the compartment don't want to sleep at the same time. The amount of sleep also depends on the lengths of the trip. Special sleeping compartments are available at an extra charge. Sleeping on the train allows the traveler to be well-prepared for a full day of sightseeing.

Day trips are the most enjoyable, however, for the trains wind through the countryside of Europe, far from most of civilization. The traveler can simply sit and watch the beautiful scenery go by, ranging from steep, breathtaking Alpine mountain views to fields of crops and flowers, dotted with ancient, picturesque castles, farm houses and churches.

The train system in Europe is by far the people's mode of travel for any long distance trips. For many of the older people and most tourists it is the cheapest and most convenient form of travel.

This building in Bregenz, Austria served as the headquarters of the Murray in Bregenz Institute. Classes were held here from Monday through Thursday during the six weeks of the Institute, with the weekends being reserved for individual traveling, directed study courses, or individual pursuits.

These State Employees Are Not Typical Ones

Chris Haid and David Rose are both state government employees, but they aren't exactly typical ones.

They are both college seniors participating in the Administrative Intern Program, which is designed both to let students know about state government and to attract well-qualified, select students into state government careers.

The interns are placed throughout state government departments, but Chris and Dave both happen to work for the water quality division, Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

Chris, a business and administration major from Florence, works in administrative services and deals with a number of different things. For example, since Jan. 17 when the internship started, he's worked on a space-needs evaluation, taken charge of the car fleet and done physical inventory of equipment, Chris said.

According to Mike Kimmel, intern supervisor, Chris is selling himself short with his description. Actually, says Mike, Chris has designed an inventory system, compatible with both state and federal regulations, which will be computerized.

Dave, a biology and political science major from Elizabethtown, works with water quality's planning section. His primary responsibility has been working on programs to get people involved in water quality planning.

David encourages public participation by showing people that they are affected by, and thus involved in, anything that happens to water.

In addition to working at jobs comparable to those held by professional career employees, Chris and David take courses, engage in extensive field trips and prepare major papers on some phase of their work.

In order to become interns, they first had to be nominated from their respective campuses — Chris from Morehead and Dave from Murray.

According to William Strunk, coordinator of the program, students are then chosen on the basis of their interest in public service careers, a minimum grade point average of 2.6 in a 4-point system and on the basis of intangible qualities such as maturity, self-confidence and initiative.

No subject major is excluded, Strunk said, adding that intelligence and ability to learn are considered more important.

Both Chris and Dave say they like the intern program a great deal so far. And so does Mike, judging from his comments about their work.

"Both Chris and Dave have really been assets," he says. "Some sections have had interns and not utilized them. We made up our minds to use them here, and I think we got a terribly good deal."

Veterans, Members Gain New GI Loans Recently

Nearly 100,000 veterans and active-duty service members gained new GI loans during the past two years after once using their entitlement and having it restored.

Prior to Jan. 1, 1975, restoration of home loan eligibility could be gained only if the VA had been relieved of liability and the property was disposed of for "compelling reasons," the Veterans Administration explained today. Congress removed the "compelling reasons" restriction, allowing entitlement to be restored if the property has been disposed of and the loan satisfied. This means that most veterans with service since Sept. 19, 1940, are potentially eligible for a GI loan.

The law also provided that the original veteran's liability be removed automatically and entitlement restored if another veteran purchases the property and substitutes his VA loan eligibility for that of the seller.

Since 1944, more than 9.5 million veterans and service members have borrowed $129 billion under the VA loan guaranty program. The VA guarantees a loan up to 60 percent or a maximum of $17,500.

The loan guaranty is available to veterans and active-duty personnel with at least 181 days service. Also eligible are unmarried surviving spouses of these veterans and spouses of service members listed as missing in action for more than 90 days.

Complete information on VA home loan benefits can be obtained at any VA office or from service officers in the major veterans' organizations.

Machete-Wielding Terrorists Holding 100 Hostages In Three Buildings In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Machete-wielding terrorists, bent on revenge against Black Muslim leaders they blame for a 1973 mass murder, held more than 100 hostages in three buildings today, and threatened to chop off captives' heads unless demands for retribution are met.

Twenty-four hours after the siege began, police and the heavily armed terrorists, some with automatic weapons, were at a standoff. No deadline for meeting of demands had been set by the invaders.

There were indications the terrorists had sufficient supplies to hold out for a time. During a tense night, a man who identified himself as Khalifa Hamaas Abdul Khaalis, leader of the gunmen who invaded and occupied three buildings, talked frequently with reporters by telephone.

Asked if he expected his demand that Black Muslim leaders be delivered to him would be met, the terrorist said, "If they don't, the worst is to come, yet, the worst is to come...I'm prepared to die."

At mid-morning, however, District of Columbia Mayor Walter Washington said hostages were "not suffering, other than being confined." City officials said unidentified diplomats were involved in efforts to negotiate with the terrorists. Abdul Khaalis confirmed he had talked to representatives of foreign nations.

A spokesman for the Iranian Embassy said today that ambassadors of three Moslem countries — Iran, Egypt and Pakistan — had spoken to Khaalis.

The Carter administration's request to urge the gunmen to be "compassionate and to see reason." The spokesman said Khaalis had not responded positively to the appeal.

Police said the men were armed with rifles, shotguns, automatic weapons and machetes.

The gunmen all were believed to be members of the tiny, predominantly black Hanafi Moslem sect. They seized the headquarters of B'nai B'rith, a Jewish social

Bland Says Transfer Won't Help Situation

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State Corrections Commissioner David Bland says the transfer of 190 inmates from the Kentucky State Penitentiary to the medium security reformatory at LaGrange won't help reduce overcrowding in the state's prisons because the inmate population already is 35 percent above capacity.

In an interview on Wednesday, the commissioner said that a new prison must be constructed.

The 1974 General Assembly appropriated $15 million to build a new maximum security prison, but the matter has been under study since then and no structure has been built.

Bland said he plans to meet with Gov. Julian Carroll and his staff before the end of the month to decide what kind of prison Kentucky needs and service organization; the Islamic Center, a Moslem mosque; and the District of Columbia city hall.

During the takeover of city hall, a black reporter for a Washington radio station was shot to death and a city councilman and three other persons were wounded. Eight other persons were injured during the takeover of the B'nai B'rith building. Three of those eight remained hostages.

One hostage at the District building telephoned radio station WTOF and reported that the group was being treated well, and were provided with cigarettes, food and newspapers this morning.

Terrorists at B'nai B'rith were based in a cafeteria. Terrorists at the Islamic Center asked that food be sent in.

One official said a package of drugs was being prepared to be sent into the B'nai B'rith building for persons requiring regular medication. A trickle of hostages continued to be released for medical reasons.

The phone report from the District building hostage, Allan Gripp, an aide to the president of the D.C. city council, was the first from that group and quoted one terrorist as shouting: "We are Hanafi Moslems to the death."

If the police have any idea of storming this room, it puts all of our lives in immediate danger, as well as the hostages at the B'nai B'rith."

As police sought to calm the situation, they asked the White House to forego a ceremonial gun salute on the mansion's lawn two blocks from the District building. It was to herald the arrival of British Prime Minister James Callaghan, but was canceled "because of concern it might be misunderstood" by the terrorists.

Protocol Chief Evan Dobbelle said. In developments outside Washington: —Moustapha Akkad, who produced a film about Islamic prophet Muhammad which the terrorists demanded be withdrawn from distribution, offered today in New York City to show the film to the Hanafis and to destroy it if they found it offensive.

—In Camden, N.J., officials at the county jail increased security for Ronald Harvey, one of those convicted of the 1973 Hanafi slayings. "They are guarding him very closely," said a spokesman. Harvey is one of those demanded to be served up to the terrorists.

—In Chicago, a friend of Muhammad Ali said he had spoken to the heavyweight boxing champion today and quoted Ali as saying he has no intention of going to Washington. Ali is among the high-ranking Muslims whom Abdul Khaalis holds responsible for the slaying of his children.

The siege continued through the night with police uncertain how many hostages were being held and how many terrorists were in the buildings.

Gripp's report to WTOF indicated that one of the gunmen in the District building is a son of Abdul Khaalis.

The largest group of hostages was being held in the eighth-floor cafeteria of the B'nai B'rith headquarters, seven blocks north of the White House. An official there estimated that as many as 118 people were in the hands of the terrorists.

Another eight to nine hostages were being held at the Islamic Center on Washington's Embassy Row, according to police. This was five to six lower than an earlier figure. Seven were inside the District building, located on Pennsylvania Avenue within sight of the White House grounds.

In a telephone conversation from the B'nai B'rith building, one of the terrorists, Khalafi Hamaas Abdul Khaalis, was asked if he would hold out indefinitely. He told an Associated Press reporter, "Don't worry, when the heads start dropping out the window, then you worry."

Abdul Khaalis described himself as the leader of the Hanafi Moslems. His son-in-law, Abdul Aziz, was contacted in the northwest Washington headquarters of the Hanafi Moslems where the murders took place four years ago. Abdul Aziz told reporters that if the demands of the terrorists were not met, "heads will be chopped off. A killing room will be set up at B'nai B'rith and heads will be thrown out of windows."

Mayor Walter Washington, who had been barricaded in his city hall office for several hours early in the takeover but later escaped the building, said early today that foreign diplomats were involved in discussions with the Hanafi gunmen.

Abdul Khaalis denied any knowledge of such negotiations.

Revenge for the brutal 1973 murders of seven Hanafis, six of whom were Abdul Khaalis' children, appeared to be the principal motive for the sudden invasion of the three buildings late Wednesday morning. Five Philadelphia Black Muslims were convicted of the 1973 slayings and each was sentenced to 140 years in prison.

In telephone conversations with newsmen, Abdul Khaalis blamed Black Muslim leaders, including heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali, for the slayings of his children and demanded that authorities turn the Muslims over to him. In addition to Ali, he listed as Muslim leaders Wallace D. Muhammad, now head of the movement; his brother, Herbert Muhammad, and former Philadelphia Muslim leader Jeremiah Muslim Shabazz.

Other demands made by Abdul Khaalis during the telephone conversations were:

—That authorities turn over the murderers of Malcolm X, who like Khaalis was a member of the Black Muslims before breaking with them.

—The return of a $750 fine assessed against him for shouting at the Muslim defendants during their trial for the 1973 Hanafi murders. Police returned the money Wednesday night.

—A halt to the screening of the movie "Muhammad, Messenger of God," which was scheduled for its American premiere on Wednesday in New York and Los Angeles. The distributor immediately stopped the film in mid-screening after learning of Abdul Khaalis' demand. Abdul Khaalis said the film was "a fairy tale" that demeaned and distorted the Islamic faith, although few other Moslems have objected to it.

In Chicago, Wallace Muhammad denied responsibility for the 1973 Hanafi slayings and said he deplored Wednesday's violence.

Four to six gunmen, including Khaalis, stormed the B'nai B'rith headquarters around 11 a.m., wounding eight persons and herding 100 or more hostages onto the top floor of the eight-story building. Police said 43 persons either were released or escaped the terrorists by hiding.

Of the wounded, two were hospitalized overnight, three were treated and released, and three still were being held by the terrorists. The condition of the wounded hostages was not known.

An hour after the first invasion, up to three more gunmen took the Islamic Center on Embassy Row, apparently without violence or injury. They retained 14 hostages, including center director Dr. Abdul Rauf, the city's highest-ranking Moslem.

One of the gunmen told a reporter by telephone that their actions were coordinated with Khaalis' group, and that "heads will roll" unless demands are met.

At 2:30 in the afternoon two more gunmen opened fire on the fifth floor of the District Building, where Mayor Walter Washington and the city council were at work.

They killed Maurice Williams, 24, an employee of WHUR-FM. City Councilman Marion Barry was wounded in the chest by a ricochet bullet, and two security guards were wounded, one critically. A fourth man, identified only as a building guard, lay motionless for hours under the city's highest-ranking Moslem.
